BRONSON TO TEACH VOICE

NEW CONSERVATORY INSTRUCTOR IS FROM SIMPSON COLLEGE

IS A BARITONE

Has Taught Voice for the Past Ten Years and His Students Make Enviable Reputations

Mr. Bernhardt Bronson, for the past four years head of the voice department at Simpson College, Indianola, Iowa, has been elected head of the voice department of the Conservatory of Music of the College here, it was announced at the College today.

Mr. Bronson has a baritone voice. The late Prof. F. E. Barrows, for so many years head of the Simpson Conservatory, said of Bronson, "He is the best man I've ever had as head of the voice department here. His strength is largely in voice building." President Lamkin said Mr. Bronson was selected from a large list of applicants largely because of the reputation his students have made and the programs they have given over the country. Many of his pupils are constantly in demand for concert work.

Mr. Bronson is American born of Norwegian ancestry. He received his training under Frances Campbell, Oscar Saenger, and George E. Shea. From 1915 to 1918 he was head of the voice department at Marquette College, Milwaukee, Wis., and from 1919 to 1921 held a similar position at the Wisconsin Music College of Milwaukee.

Mr. Bronson succeeds Luther A. Richman of the Conservatory faculty who resigned to take a position with the Iowa State Teachers College at Cedar Falls.

ROAD DAMAGES TOTAL $1,300

FOR NEW ROAD WEST FROM THE DAVIS SCHOOL HOUSE.

REPORT OF COMMISSION

Allow $150 an Acre for Land Taken for Road and 75 Cents a Rod for Building Fences.

Special commissioners appointed by the county court to view a strip of land one mile west from the Davis School house to be opened as a new public road, and assess damages if any, reported their decision to the county clerk as damages figured at the rate of $150 per acre for land taken and 75 cents a rod for building fences.

Total damages to four property owners, through whose land the new road will be opened, totals $1,380, according to the report of the commissioners, appointed, who made their report yesterday, were George Ulmer, Jr., John McMahon and Frank Clayton.

The new road will take an acre and a half off of the Douglas N. Hoshor farm; seventy-five hundredths of an acre from the Joseph Henderson farm; and in the two strips off of the Edward Busby farm the land is divided as an acre and a half and seventy-five hundredths of an acre; and from the James Davison farm, two strips of land, each strip being seventy-five hundredths of an acre.

The commissioners found the following land owners damaged on the following described land:

Douglas N. Hoshor, 160 rods south of south one-half of southwest quarter, section 5, township 62, range 35, a total of $345.

Joseph Henderson, 80 rods on south side of southeast fourth of southeast quarter, section 6, township 62, range 35, a total of $172.50.

Edward Busby, 160 rods on north side of northwest quarter of section 8, township 62, range 35; and 80 rods on north side of northeast fourth of northeast quarter of section 7, township 62, range 35; total of $517.50.

Most of the land owners have agreed to the foregoing damages, but in case any are not satisfied they may file exceptions to the report with the county clerk, Fred W. Smith.

Rileys Have Close Call With Lightning

Home is Struck While They Were Asleep—Escape Attributed by Many, to Feather Bed

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Riley, living eight miles northwest of Maryville, had a narrow escape from being killed in the storm early Monday morning when the lightning struck their house. Their escape has been attributed by many to the fact that they were sleeping on a feather bed.

Lightning struck the northwest corner of their house, burning two holes through the house and connected with the bed where Mr. and Mrs. Riley were sleeping. The lightning ran across the head of the bed, burning three holes in the railing of the bed, and then ran down the bed post and burned a hole in the baseboard.

Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Riley were injured but Mr. Riley received a severe shock.

Judge William Woods of Burlington Junction, insurance appraiser and Mr. Owens of that town, who went to the scene Monday morning, were of the opinion as well as a number of neighbors of the Riley's that the feather bed on the bed was all that saved their lives.

The house was only slightly damaged.

Desertion Alleged in Hobson Divorce

She also asks that her maiden name of Vida Shelman be restored by the court.

A new school building is being erected at Gaynor this summer and it is the plan of the board at that place to arrange a course of study for a four-year high school.

Mr. Somerville and Mr. Godbey also drove to the Mount Ayr school where there is a new school in the course of construction. The building will be so equipped that it can become a first class rural school.

"Society cannot tolerate such actions as this," said the judge. "The law must be upheld."

Boone County Court Balks on Hulen's Pay

Prosecuting Attorney There Puts in Bill for $8,819.47 Back Salary, Which Is Refused.

(Columbia Missourian).

The county court will refuse tomorrow to pay attorney Ruby M. Hulen, former prosecuting attorney, the $8,819.47 back salary as ordered by the writ of mandamus issued by the Supreme Court July 18, according to Harris & Price, attorneys for the court.

The write gave Boone County thirty days in which to pay, the time expires tomorrow. The court is contesting the payment of this money through its attorneys, Harris & Price. The case will come up again in the Supreme Court some time in October, along with several other cases from other counties over the state. The lawyers for the other counties have filed similar objections.

This back salary is claimed in connection with a new method of computing salaries of prosecuting attorneys. The amendment passed by the General Assembly, and recently upheld by the Supreme Court, changed the basis of computing salaries from three times the total number of registered votes cast at the last regular election to five times that number. This amendment would practically double the salary of a prosecuting attorney.

Coolidge Lingers at Father's Home

Plymouth, Vt., Aug. 18—Clear, cool weather encouraged President Coolidge to linger at his boyhood home here high up in the Green mountains and tentative plans to start the return journey to the summer white house at Swampscott were abandoned for at least twenty-four hours more.

There was nothing special on the executive schedule for the day. His only engagement was luncheon with Governor Billings of Vermont. The President contented himself with loitering around the house talking with his father, Col. John C. Coolidge and strolling leisurely about renewing acquaintances with scenes of his youth.

NO TRACE YET OF ANDERSON

MURDERER AND CHAPMAN'S AVENGER DISAPPEARS.

MANY SLEUTHS WORK

But All of Them Unable To Solve Puzzle—Anderson Apparently Writes Letter.

Muncie, Ind., Aug. 18.—While police continued their forlorn search for George "Dutch" Anderson, the coroner's inquest resumed its investigation into the death of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hance who were shot and killed by Anderson because they squealed on his pal, Gerald Chapman, now awaiting execution for the murder of a policeman.

A wide diversity of opinion, among the officers, including private detectives from the best agencies in the country, government secret service men and other skilled sleuths, was evident relative to Anderson's whereabouts.

Some were of the opinion that Anderson was a hundred miles from the scene of the double shooting while others were equally as convinced that he was within a short distance of the scene of the spot.

Indianapolis, Aug. 18.—Harry C. Webster, superintendent of the Indiana Bankers Protective Association, and active in running down members of the gang of Geo. "Dutch" Anderson, sought for the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hance, received a threatening letter today purporting to be written by Anderson. The letter was mailed in Indianapolis at 5:30 p. m. "King comes first, then you. You had better make your peace with your God, I'm in town."

CHANNEL TOO BIG A SWIM

AMERICAN GIRL FALLS SHORT OF CROSSING IT.

LACKED 6 1-2 MILES

Seasickness Caused By Swallowing Salt Water Causes Miss Ederle To Give Up.

New York, Aug. 18—Miss Gertrude Ederle, the pretty American girl who left Cape Griz-Nez, France at 7:10 this morning in an attempt to swim the English channel, collapsed at 3:58 this afternoon, according to a bulletin sent out by the North American Newspaper Alliance which received a wireless from the tug that accompanied the swimmer.

Miss Ederle was six and a half miles from Dover, England, her goal, when she was forced to give up. Her collapse was due to seasickness from swallowing too much salt water, according to the wireless from the tug, Morinie.

Within a half hour after she had been taken aboard Miss Ederle had entirely recovered and was able to partake of light refreshments.

To keep her warm in the water Miss Ederle was covered with the heaviest aplication of fats that any swimmer ever had. Her trainers aplied a quarter inch of lanolin, then a light coat of vaseline, topping it off with about a quarter of an inch of a preparation that her trainer, Wolfe, had concocted from the heaviest grease he could get.

Miss Ederle showed no dread of her task last night, no nervousness, just girlish enthusiasm. She was to be sent into the waters four hours and 20 minutes before the high tide so she might get as much benefit as possible from the tide before it turns toward Calais into the North Sea.

Several famous channel swimmers, including Tom Burgess of England, the Egyptian Ishaak Helmy, Miss Lillian Harrison of Argentina and Mlle. Jane Sion, the French swimmer, accompanied Miss Ederle on the tug and took turns of taking the water to pace the swimmer. Miss Ederle used the twenty-seven strokes-to-the-minute suit and attempted to maintain it throughout the course.

His conviction is due to the activity of the fish department against the destruction of fish by dynamiting.

THE ONLY DAILY PAPER IN NODAWAY COUNTY

WHAT MISSOURI NEEDS

Jack Blanton, the "Horse Editor" of the Monroe County Appeal at Paris, offers the following:

"Another crying need of the times, it seems to us, is a public speaker who is free from the bellyache. People are getting tired of calamity howls and tales of woe. Matters are bad enough, heaven knows, with a tariff which levies tribute on every pocketbook and everybody passing his tax burdens on to the owner of real estate, but, even at that, people are having more comforts, more opportunities, more luxuries and more of everything else they covet, than at any other time in their lives excepting, of course, during the Wilson administration, when excessive prosperity led us into extravagant habits we probably never will be able to shake off. Under such circumstances Democratic orators must change their tune if they expect to get a patient hearing from the electorate. Besides, as we have frequently pointed out, nobody seems to care a rap how much they are oppressed or overtaxed so long as they have plenty of money for luxuries and plenty of time for such diversions as now abound on every hand. The thing that would appeal to them a lot more than hark-from-the-tomb stuff like Democrats have been putting out since another party took their place at the political trough is oratory in praise of the white bread they are now eating and policies under which it would be possible to increase the size of the loaf. Anyway, there's no use in talking about everything being all wrong when people are not interested in that line of talk, as at present, or of trying to create the impression thatif you elect John Smith as constable or Jo Baggs as coroner every ill with which the body politic is afflicted will be cured. Missouri languishes behind less favored states because her public men do so much bellyaching and calamity howling the outside world is afraid to venture within her borders. The people are getting tired of it. The man who will come along with some pleasant thoughts and new ideas about the living present will find it easier to interest and enthuse his audience about what he thinks should be done for the oncoming future."

GOING AFTER THE DRUNKEN DRIVER

A St. Louis motorist has been sentenced to six months in jail and fined $1,600 for offenses growing out of his operation of a motor car while he was intoxicated. That was severe but just punishment. The reckless driving of the motorist resulted in two accidents in which death or serious injury to several pedestrians and to other motorists was narrowly avoided. The evidence showed that the offender had no control of his vehicle and no sense of responsibility for its management.

Under such circumstances the motor vehicle becomes a genuine menace. Of all types of offenders, the drunken motorist is the most dangerous. He is armed with a death-dealing weapon and is a potential killer. It is fortunate that the courts and traffic officials are realizing this fact. A Milwaukee judge consistently has been sending drunken drivers to jail, fining them heavily or using perhaps an even more effective punishment by taking their cars away from them for extended periods. The latter punishment frequently is resorted to for this offense as well as other traffic violations of a serious nature in states where motorists are subject to license regulations.

If similar methods should be employed everywhere most of the dangerous motorists soon would be weeded out. There are not many of them, and that simplifies the problem of dealing with them effectively.—Kansas City Times.

THE HESITANT DRIVER IN TRAFFIC.

"Well, make up your mind," growled one driver at the driver ahead, who had signalled that he was going to turn to the left, had hesitated, and then had gone straight on.

"I see that sort of thing every day," said the driver who had been held up momentarily to his friend to whom he had given a "lift" that morning. "The hesitant driver is as great a menace to safety as the reckless driver. One cannot gauge him, one never knows what he is going to do."

True of driving, true of life in general. The fellow who cannot make up his mind throws all our plans awry. He will give us a decision by such and such a day. We build upon that expectation and when the day arrives he is still undecided. When he finally does decide the chances are that the scales of his judgment have been inclined one way or the other through the consideration of a minor point and not because of a clear analysis of the situation.

The only way to deal with the hesitant driver is to watch him or, better still, to pull around and get in front of him. The only way to deal with the hesitant type in general is to analyze your man and, if he falls into this class, make due allowances. To depend on him in matters of importance is to build on shifting sands.

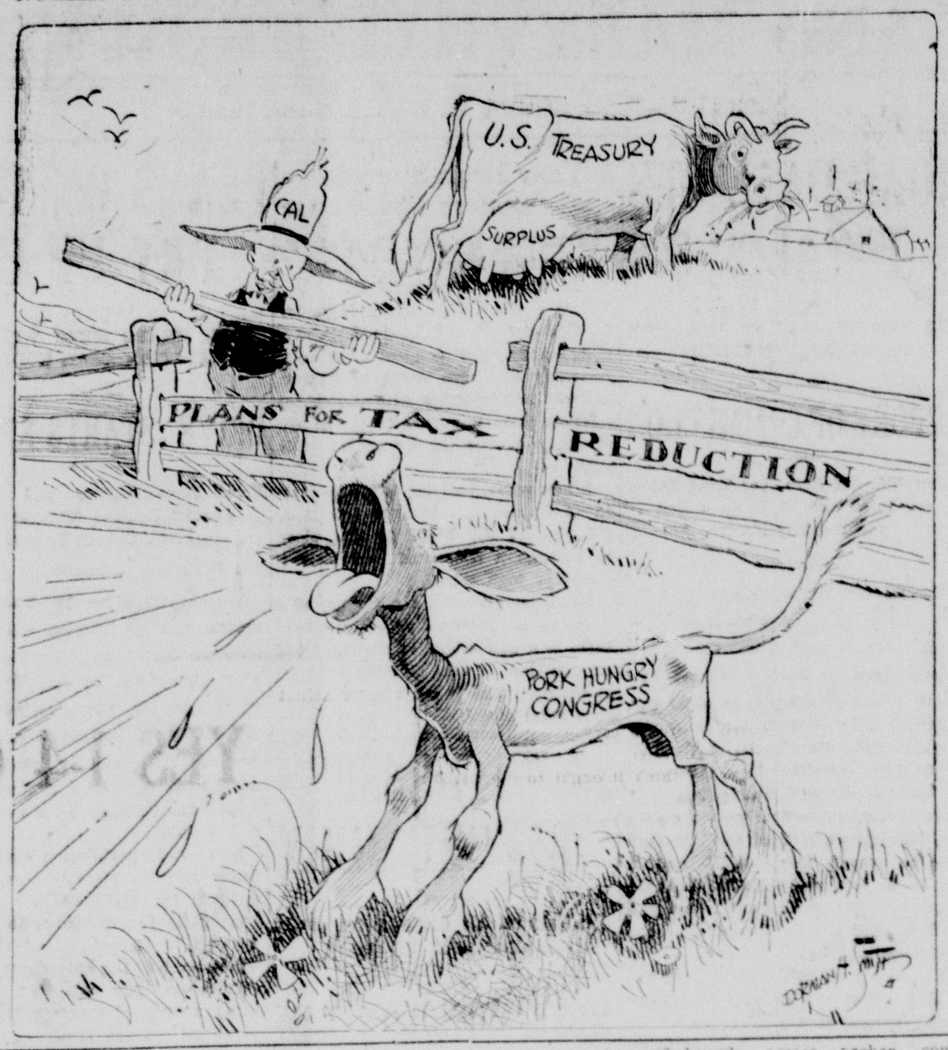
NOTHING BEATS A WELL BUILT FENCE IN A MATTER SUCH AS THIS.



Hobbies of the Great and Near Great in American National Life

SENATOR J. THOMAS HEFLIN.

Noted for his ceaseless attacks on Republican administrations from the floor of the Senate, Senator J. Thomas Heflin (D., of Ala.) has won an even greater niche of fame among his colleagues as a raconteur.

His rich mimiery of Southern dialects and his wide choice of droll anecdotes win for "Tom" far greater and more interested audiences in the Senate cloakrooms than do his orations on the Senate floor. Day after day, when the Senate is in session, his friends—Republican as well as Democrat—call for "Tom" and another of his famous stories. The fact is, story telling is Heflin's chief hobby.

His colleagues not only revere Heflin as a raconteur, but they also fear the lash of his tongue when he rips a Republican Administration wide open. There are but few grizzled warriors in the Senate who voluntarily engage him in debate, and when they do, Heflin usually turns the laughter of the galleries upon them by the use of some homely but humorous Southern anecdote. And here again, even at his work, Heflin displays his hobby for stories of the South.

Noted Campaigner.

On the stump in a political campaign Heflin has won the sobriquet of the "best campaigner of them all." This tribute comes not only from Democrats, but from his Republican opponents as well. And it is due chiefly to his use of stinging witticisms.

Heflin is a constant reader of the Bible, and his use of Biblical quotations in debate leaves him without a rival in this respect. His favorite quotation is, "By their fruits ye shall know them," and when "Tom" says that, Republican fur is flying. But, with it all, his Republican opponents have kindly feeling for the Alabaman.

Of all his stories of Southern life, Heflin loves the following best. It seems that Heflin met an old Negro, named Uncle Rufus, walking along a Southern road, vigorously talking to himself. First, Rufus would ask himself a question and then he'd shout out the reply. This engaged Heflin's interest.

"Hello, Uncle!" the Senator said. "Why are you talking to yourself like that?"

"Well, suh," replied Rufus; "it's like this. I talks to myself for two reasons. In the first place, I likes to talk to a smart man, and in the second place, I likes to hear a smart man talk."

When Heflin tells that story in the Negro dialect, he adds 100 per cent more humor in the telling.

Rides To Hounds.

Next to story-telling, Heflin's hobby is to ride to hounds on a fox chase. Down in Alabama, when vacationing from his Senatorial duties, Heflin usually can be found with the horses and hounds. He loves to attend one of the old-fashioned fox hunts, where the riders remain out in the country for two and three days.

"I get my greatest thrill of life," says Heflin, "from riding to the tune of hounds across broken country. That's the spice of life."

The Alabaman's secret weakness is a love for an old-time Southern breakfast, and he'll really "walk a mile" to get one. It consists of bacon and eggs, buttered toast, turnip greens, hoecake cornbread and buttermilk. Um, um, um.

For exercise, the Senator takes long walks. He has visited every nook and cranny of the capital on these strolls and is as much a city authority in Washington as the oldest inhabitant.

Owns Famous Waistcoat.

No story of Heflin would be complete without some mention of his cream-colored waistcoat. It is the only double-breasted cream waistcoat in Congress and the only waistcoat of whatever color—so far as memory serves—that has ever been mentioned in the Congressional Record. And, thirdly, it is the only waistcoat ever to arouse the envy of former Senator "Jim Ham" Lewis, of Illinois, the king of all the Senate's Beau Brummels.

But here is a bit of information about the Heflin waistcoat which never before has appeared in print. It is the reason why Heflin wears his unique vest. And here are "Tom's" own words:

"I wear a cream waistcoat because it is emblematic of purity."

Tomorrow—Senator George Pepper.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER
By Charles P. Stewart
NEA Service Writer.

Washington—Washington has now probably the most complicated traffic code in the country.

The original idea was to make the capital America's model in the handling of automobiles—a nice place for drivers and a paradise for those who walk.

Unfortunately the code's compilers put too much into it, in an effort to make it cover everything. They also followed the congressional method, in including numerous regulations which either mean nothing at all or else mean two or three different and conflicting things, until they're "interpreted."

The trouble is, the "interpretations" differ and conflict, too.

An autoist, "interpreting" a rule one way, is pinched by a copper who "interprets" it otherwise. The judge, with an "interpretation" all his own simultaneously bawls out the cop, for the latter's "interpretation," and soaks the prisoner for his.

Taking his lesson to heart, the autoist starts out next morning, full in the faith that he knows what's what, only to be run in presently for doing exactly what he was fined for not doing the day before, the tricky regulation having been "re-interpreted" by some still higher authority overnight and now implying something that neither the autoist, the cop nor the traffic judge had thought of before.

If anybody imagines this doesn't cause confusion, let him visit Washington and see.

An Infant Live Wire

A Los Angeles street car had halted at a drawbridge outside the city to let a steamer go through. A four-year-old flapper accompanied by her Mid-Victorian grandmother watched the proceedings with interest. Suddenly the air-pump which had been throbbing stopped.

"Boob," gurgled the child in the dead silence, pointing at the motorman.

"Nice man," said the dear old lady, beaming. "Runs the car for Betty; don't point."

The infant wrinkled her nose scornfully and remarked, "The poor dumbbell has stalled his engine."—From Everybody's Magazine for September.

The foundation may be well-laid and firm. The walls may be sturdy and strong. But, what good will these and your other plans be if the heating plan fails?

Your heating plant will be the heart of your home, if it radiates warmth and comfort. It will guard the health of your family.

INSECT DIES BY ORDER OF QUEEN MARY

London, Aug. 17—Queen Mary has ordered an execution—but only that of a bluebottle fly.

Newspapers made much of the Queen's verdict of death.

It all happened when the Queen visited the Royal Society, a scientific society, and found there a fly in captivity for the purpose of measuring the gas given off by a fly.

"Is the fly suffering in captivity?" asked the Queen.

"No, it is quite happy and will be liberated this evening," said the scientist.

"I think it ought to be killed, in case it has been suffering at all, and also because it is important to exterminate as many flies as possible, having regard to the mischief they do," said the Queen.

"If your Majesty passes sentence of death it will be carried out," answered the scientist.

"Yes, I think it ought to die," said the Queen.

Thus a Queen spoke and a fly died.

LATEST STYLE HINTS FROM PARIS.

By ALICE LANGELIER,
International News Service
Staff Correspondent.

Paris, Aug. 18.—The first of the grand openings of the smart Paris dressmakers seems to indicate that there will be no very great changes in the general lines of Fall fashions.

Skirts are trying to cover the knees in some of the houses, but the majority of them seem to be as short as ever and ever so much fuller. Circular flounces or inverted box pleats express the increase in width of skirts in frocks of woolen stuffs or heavy crepe de Chine, while dresses of mousseline de soie and light-weight silk crepes are pleated from neck to hem in fancy pleating, which was introduced last season and which promises to be equally fashionable for the early Autumn.

Both coats and dresses have a slight flare at the sides and in the front, but the backs in general fall straight and plain. The two-piece fashion is here to stay, for every dress has its cape or coat, no matter for what occasion.

An attempt to force fullness, motif trimmings, draperies and other features to the relief of the plain, slinky frocks of the past season is the distinguishing feature of Paul Caret's collection this year.

He puts godets in tailleurs and afternoon dresses and fulness across the back, or in straight strips of embroidery down the center of the back from neckline to hem. One of his charming models, "Lucarne," in blue serge, is severely plain in front, with two large motifs, embroidered in bright colors, to the right side of the back.

"Boheme," in warm kasha rose, has lavish snakeskin trimming in the back.

Trimmings are more complicated and more beautiful than ever. Beads, silk leather, sequins, wool and not made into specimens beautiful enough to go into a museum. In all the new styles the details are carefully studied. Since the lines of the dresses do not change greatly, the trimmings, colors and the quality must be especially distinctive.

ECZEMA

You will be compelled to admit that the results of S.S.S. are really amazing!

MANY people imagine that eczema or tetter needs only some external application on the skin in order to get relief. This is because the attention of the sufferer is so violently directed to the intense burning and itching which accompanies this disease. Try as they may—permanent relief will never be theirs until the disease laden blood is thoroughly cleansed.

We know there is one thing that stops eczema and that is more red-blood-cells! S.S.S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it. Skin eruptions, eczema, with all its fiery, skin digging torture, and its soul-tearing, unreachable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting giants of Nature! S.S.S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1826.

S.S.S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body strengtheners known to us mortals! When you put these facts together,—then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. S.S.S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S.S.S. does build red-blood-cells, it routs eczema, clears the skin, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, and gives you that more up and going appearance.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Crop Outlook Good in Wis. This Year

C. C. Gignoux, Ass't. Agricultural Supervisor of the Union Pacific System, with headquarters at Milwaukee, advises the Chamber of Commerce, as follows concerning crop conditions:

"Outlook for general crops in Wisconsin is very fine this year and it seems that where hay is short because of early drought, late rains are making fine corn and grain crops to overcome this. My travels in Minnesota show that this is also true there, and I believe such is the case in Iowa.

"Potatoes are short as to acreage in these states, but conditions of growth good. Prices are bound to be good this year, as there is a large decrease in acreage over the last few years throughout the country. Idaho buyers are paying from $2.00 per cwt. up and yields are reported fine in every way.

Great Coal Mining Season Is Forecast

No More Strike Talk is Heard—Many Illinois Mines Will Soon Be Ready for Operation

Herrin, Ill., Aug. 18—The greatest coal mining season since the memorable strike of 1922.

That is the forecast for Southern Illinois today as various mining companies start shift men at work in order to prepare the shafts for actual work—to be started about the first of September. It is the belief here that more miners will be hired this season than at any other time since 1922.

Despite statements coming out of Chicago over Sunday, there is no more than the current every-day talk of strikes. Actual reports of a "sympathy strike" are still unknown, and the miners here are making every plan to stand by the present wage agreement which has almost a year to run.

The following mines are being put into shape for resumption of mining activities:

Consolidated No. 7—Herrin.

Valier Mine of the Burlington railroad.

Two Old Ben Mines at West Frankfort.

Peabody No. 3—Marion.

Old Ben Mine—Christopher.

Orient No. 1—Near DuQuoin.

Burr Mine—Near Marion.

Many of the smaller mines over Williamson, Franklin and Saline counties also are making plans to resume operations immediately while some of those now in operation are planning on increasing their output.

The Madison Coal Corporation, which operates mines in the Herrin and Carterville field, is increasing its output to meet the demands of the Illinois Central railroad.

Some of the mines which will open this fall have been idle since the strike of 1922 and many of the miners who are returning to the field have been taking odd jobs to tide over the slack period.

The towns of the district manifest the optimistic spirit, with trade at the stores on the increase according to a survey made here.

House Where Lincoln Lived Is to Be Razed

Edwardsville, Ill., Aug. 18—One of the landmarks of Southern Illinois is about to pass away.

The old Franklin House, said to have housed Abraham Lincoln on several nights, has been ordered destroyed. A new building will take its place, according to plans now in formation.

In the olden days the Franklin House was one of the popular taverns of this section of the country. It was one of the principal stage coach stops between northern and southern Illinois and it was on these stage coach trips that Lincoln was said to have stopped here.

Chicago Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Grains closed irregular on the Board of Trade today. Wheat closed moderately lower. Coarse grains were steady to fractionally higher.

Wheat was unsettled and fluctuated considerably. Longs brought out sales in coarse grains. Shorts were aggressive buyers on breaks. The general disposition seemed to remain close on committments tending developments.

Corn received a good support from commission houses. Unfavorable reports from the southwest where rains are badly needed, caused some buying.

Oats were firm and without new features.

Provisions dropped off sharply, influenced by lower hogs and indifferent demands.

CATTLE STRONGER—HOGS LOWER—SHEEP HIGHER

Kansas City Stock Yards, Aug. 17—Trade in fat cattle opened early at strong prices, and remained active most of the session. Steers ruled strong, cows and heifers and stockers and feeders were higher. Receipts showed a material reduction compared with a week ago and a year ago. Moderate runs are expected the rest of the week. The 5,000 northwest grass fat cattle received in Chicago caused lower prices on all except the full fed kinds. Hogs were 10 to 15 cents lower than Saturday. Trade retained an active turn at the decline. Lambs were 25 cents higher. Few sheep arrived.

Today's Receipts

Receipts today were 26,000 cattle, 7,000 hogs, and 10,00 sheep compared with 35,600 cattle, 5,500 hogs, and 12,000 sheep a week ago, and 34,200 cattle, 11,250 hogs, and 8,850 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle

Demand for fat cattle was active at strong prices. Butcher classes were 10 to 15 cents higher. Lighter receipts than a week ago contained only a few loads that showed any material amount of feed and they sold largely at $14 to $15. The $15 price was paid for heavy weight steers. Sales at $11 to $13.50 were fairly numerous, and most of them were the short fed kinds. Wintered steers sold at $9.75 to $11.75 and straight grass fat steers $5 to $10. There was some weakness in the plainer classes of grass fat steers. Cows and heifers were in moderate supply, and with the range in good condition it begins to look like small runs will prevail during the fall months. Most of the grass fat heifers sold at $5.50 to $7.50 and grass fat cows $4.25 to $55.50. Fed cows were lacking and fed heifers scarce. Veal calves were steady, top $12.

Stockers and Feeders

A broad demand for stock and feeding cattle prevailed at strong to 25 cents higher prices. Fleshy feeders which met a slow demand late week shared in the advance. Common to fair quality stockers sold slowly.

Hogs

Notwithstanding moderate receipts hog prices here were lower in sympathy with eastern declines. The loss here was quoted at 10 to 15 cents, practically all classes sharing the setback. The top price $13.60, was paid for choice 200 pound hogs. The bulk of the 150 and 250 pound hogs brought $13.15 to $13.50. Packing sows sold at $12 to $12.35, and stock hogs and pigs $12.75 to $13.75. Indications are that receipts will remain light, but no substantial rally is expected in prices.

Sheep and Lambs

Lamb prices were 15 to 25 cents higher and sheep were in moderate supply at strong prices. Native lambs sold mostly at $14.25 to $14.75, and Colorado lambs $15 too $15.35. Some Arizona lambs brought $14.50. Some Colorado ewes at $7.25 were the only fat sheep offered. Feeding lambs are quoted at $13 to $14.50.

Horses and Mules

Receipts of horses and mules were more liberal and trade is expanding accordingly. Prices are firm.

National Democrat Is Suspended Again

Washington, Aug. 18.—Funds are required to continue publication of the "National Democrat," a weekly periodical which was revived a few weeks ago following a semi-somnolent state of several months, according to an appeal at present being made to Democrats desirous of seeing the publication survive. The temporary suspension of the publication followed the arrest and indictment of one of its former editors and publishers on a bootlegging charge.

Hardly had the resumption of publication got under way, however, when someone not in sympathy with the McAdoo movement noticed that some of the sponsors of the revivified weekly were more or less closely identified with the western and southern factional followings. That was the beginning of the end—the second "demise" following the appearance of the sixth or seventh issue under the new management.

It was reported today that a third group is negotiating for the paper with a view to giving it one more chance. Inability to meet the payroll and other current obligations was the direct cause of the suspension.

Milton Elrod of Indianapolis the most recent publisher, whose connection with an official publication of the Ku Klux Klan, drew the fire of anti-klan elements within the party is understood to have placed his stock in the hands of a prominent Democratic law firm, with power of attorney to negotiate a change of ownership. Frederick W. Steckman, a native of Princeton and in newspaper work in Washington for many years, once with the old St. Louis Republic, was the editor of the National Democrat. Steckman is hopeful that the paper may soon be again on its feet.

Glad He Picked This Good Stomach Remedy

Puts Stomach in Fine Condition—Ends Dizzy Spells, Catarrh and Makes You Sleep Well.

Injudicious eating causes acute indigestion, gas, heartburn, heaviness and sour stomach—sometimes the distended stomach causes that dreadful feeling of near suffocation.

Isn't it worth something to know of a remedy that will stop this distress in a few minutes—quicker than anything else you can think of.

This is no common stomach remedy for it took years of time to combine Pepsin with the other effective agents that make Dare's Mentha-Pepsin so good that the worst cases of indigestion and gastritis and other chronic stomach ailments are speedily overcome and the most deranged stomachs are made clean, strong and healthy.

Mr. Calvin Dilks of Alloway, N. J., a man of few words, knows this for he writes: "I entirely rid myself of an old catarrhal condition of the stomach with Dare's Mentha-Pepsin."

No matter what your stomach trouble is get a bottle today at Koch Pharmacy or any druggist anywhere with the distinct understanding that if it doesn't do you the world of good your money will be returned.

1st German Band in 10 Years in Detroit

Dispatch From There Says That According to This Sign the War is Really Over

Detroit, Mich, Aug. 18.—(United Press)—The war is over. This time it really is.

For the first time in nearly 10 years a little German band has been seen in action.

Five German musicians, in full regalia of red coats and fancy hats, broke the paradise of radio fans in one section of Detroit tooting "Ach Du Lieber Augustine" and the "Loreli." There were no jazz numbers.

And the little knots of people which gathered about them every place they roamed contributed nickles and dimes as they did in the old days.

COSTS ONLY 3 CENTS TO REMOVE YOUR WRINKLES

Better than massage for removing wrinkles and age lines, far less expensive and bothersome, is a simple tarkroot mixture which any woman can prepare and apply in a jiffy. Almost immediately after spreading this over the face there is a pleasant, soothing sensation and the mirror shows the horrid age lines and "sags" disappearing like magic. In less than fifteen minutes the face is as smooth and firm as a schoolgirl's. Seems almost too good to be true, but the actual experience quickly removes all doubt.

All one needs do is to procure an original package of tarkroot from the druggist, mix a spoonful with a spoonful of lemon juice and apply with the fingers. This, of course, is perfectly harmless. It is easily washed off, leaving the face wonderfully refreshed and rejuvenated, with a healthy glow. And the cost of such treatment is 3 cents!

Rules for Lasting Martial Bliss Given

Dr. Boetker's Panacea for Domestic Infelicity is Three Simple Rules —Believes Them Infallible.....

Geneva, O., Aug. 18—Complete and lasting marital bliss is guaranteed by Dr. William J. Boetker, Ohian, philosopher, farmer, minister, lecturer, lawyer, author.

Dr. Boetker's panacea for domestic infelicity is three simple rules. So positive is he of the infallibility of his sytem he has posted fifty-nine checks for $1,00 with different organizations payable to any couple who does not find perfect happiness after thirty days trial.

The rules are:

Change your grammar. "You" must be in the first person and "I" the second. Then always think in the first person.

Try twice as hard to please your mate after marriage as before. Be twice as anxious to deserve love. Be twice as attractive.

Find happiness only in making your husband or wife happy.

This philosophy is the product of a quarter of a century of study of home problems. Dr. Boetker practices what he preaches: He makes his home his shrine.

His greatest accomplishments in life, he believes, is the accumulation of a family of eight children.

Dr. oetker tills a farm of 170 acres near Geneva and travels the world giving lectures. He is pastor of the Presbyterian church at Erie, Pa., and has written 108 books, most of them expounding his philosophy on home life.

The "so-called labor problem is not a problem of working hours it is a problem of what men do when they are not working—of the home" declared Boetker.

"There are so few real homes today," he continued. "Most of them are merely filling stations where husband, wife and children eat, sleep and dress to go out."

"The salvation of the world is the happy home."

111 Are Killed in Fourth Celebration

New York, Aug. 18—More lives were lost in celebrating last Fourth of July than in the Battle of Lexington, according to statistics compiled by the American Museum of Safety.

One hundred and eleven persons, mostly children, were killed and 1,030 injured, according to this report which shows that sparklers and firecrackers were responsible for most of the casualties.

St. Louis reported the heaviest toll with seventy-three persons seriously injured and sixty less gravely hurt.

Walton League Stands for Game Preservation

St. Louis, August 18.—Izaak Walton has been dead more than two hundred and forty years, but his memory has never died out of the hearts of the lovers of the great out doors. Today the name of Izaak Walton has taken on a wider, deeper meaning. The Izaak Walton League of America has taken up the work of education to the end that out-door sports that the original Izaak loved shall be more than just a memory to those of us living and but a tale that is told to those who are to come; that the forest of this America shall not disappear as did the forests of China.

Also that what little is left of the primitive forests shall not be destroyed and that the cut-over land shall again be clothed with the grandest of nature's covering; that the wild flowers, the song birds, the wild animals life shall not be effaced from the land we love; that our streams shall be kept pure and unpolluted; that our fish life shall be restored to its former abundance; that there shall be more effective protection against fire in our remnants of forest lands.

This not only because of the commercial value and the economic need of timber, but because we cannot have pure streams without forests. There are many substitutes for wood but there is much in life that is valuable which cannot exist without trees.

Says It Is No Art to Have Two Wives

Chicago, Aug. 18.—(United Press)—There is no particular art in having two wives, maintaining separate establishments and keeping them in ignorance of each other's existence—just a matter of keeping one's mouth shut and giving them enough presents—Edward N. Schneider explained to police today.

For three years Schneider lived with his two wives in separate parts of the city and in addition conducted a successful bootlegging business. He gave his wives lots of presents to alleviate their annoyance at his long absences.

"I kept my mouth shut and gave them lots of presents," he told officers.

The bootlegging business started falling off some time ago. Mrs. Scheider No. 1, failing to receive her customary allowance, and aroused by her husband's long absence, called his club and found Schneider had given a new address. She went to the house and there found her husband and his second wife living as Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edwards.

There are two children as a result of the first union and one by the second.

Schneider is charged with violating the dry law and with bigamy.

Honolulu, Aug. 18.—Recent revision of estimates covering the 1925 sugar crop of these islands has increased the expected output to nearly 755,000 tons. This will be greater than any previous crop by approximately 50,000 tons. Good growing weather, which has allowed the cane to store up a heavy sucrose content, is responsible for the large crop.

Land Speculation Barred by Jews

(By International News Service)

Jerusalem, Aug. 18.—A notice appeared in the Hebrew press of Palestine recently containing a warning issued by the Jewish National Fund that it has opened negotiations for purchases of land in several districts and that any intervention on the part of others in regard to such lands would adversely affect this institution operating with public funds. Prospective purchasers and others were asked not to encroach upon the rights of the National Land Purchasing Agency.

Tries a Holdup with An Empty Revolver

Granite City, Ill., Aug. 18—"Stick 'em Up," Frank Plebanek, soft drink establishment proprietor here, gazed into the blackened barrel of an old revolver behind which stood a hardened desperado of nine years.

The bandit snapped the trigger twice, and then fled with Plebanek at his heels. A chase of several blocks resulted in the boy's capture. His gun, which was empty, was taken away from him and he was set at liberty.

Plebanek considered it a childish prank.
